Many of you have been asking about Ron. Journeys to school don't quite feel the same when you're not greeted by Ron's cheery welcome.

Unfortunately before the Easter holidays, Ron had a fall and broke his wrist. Whilst he is recovering well from this injury, he is also experiencing a problem with his shoulder at the moment which he is hopeful to recover from shortly so that he may resume his role. He is missing all of you and is very much looking forward to getting back to duty as soon as he is fit and able. In the meantime I'm sure you would like to join us in wishing him a speedy recovery. On Tuesday morning, the week got off to a rousing start with a fantastic music assembly led by Mr Cordon and professional musician Darren Jones. Mr Cordon and Darren performed together to children from reception through to year five and talked about their shared experiences of music which began when they were at primary school together and has led to them now performing in bands together. It was an incredible opportunity for the children to experience live music at its best with two incredibly talented musicians. We are very excited that Mr Cordon and Darren's band 'The Long Run' will be performing this year at our PAGWPS camping event. This will certainly be one not to miss.

In addition to Darren Jones being a very talented musician, he is also a very talented artist and currently has an art exhibition on display, at The Forum, Southend Library for him. If you are in Southend this weekend, you may wish to pop in and see some of his fantastic work.

On Wednesday some of our Reception children enjoyed a morning at Rayleigh Library, everyone enjoyed sharing the books that they found. A big thank you to all of our parent helpers.

There's something very special about meeting other mums and dads on this course for parents. The benefits of sharing ideas and experiences with other parents can last a lifetime.

Being a parent can be both rewarding and challenging. This course is here to support you and to help you build strong and secure family relationships with your child, whatever their age.

It includes group discussions and practical tasks to help you build on your strengths and give you time and space to think about any changes you want to make. A helpful, easy to read handbook is included with each course.

Focussing on children from 0 to 11 years, Positive Parenting helps parents look at how to support their child as they start to find out how the world works, learn how to manage their feelings, find out what they're good at and experience the consequences of keeping or breaking the rules.

How does it work?

Sharing ideas with other parents and carers is a key element of the six sessions. Discussions are based around real-life scenarios. Each session includes space to plan any changes you want to make in your parenting and, from week 2, an opportunity to discuss how you're getting on with trying these at home.

What's in the course?

The course begins by looking at the surprises, disappointments and joys of parenthood. We consider how to develop children's emotional security, and build the bond between parent and child through recognising their feelings, responding appropriately, listening well, and being positive in what we say.

Play is important for a child's development, and we look at ways in which we can support and encourage their growth and learning. We also consider different parenting styles, what our own particular parenting style is, and how that affects our interactions with our child.

A vital topic is boundaries and why they matter. We look at how routines and giving limited choices help reduce battles. There's a toolkit of strategies for handling difficult behaviour and we see how we can choose one that is right for our child.

As adults we have needs too, and so we think about how to meet those needs and also how we handle conflict within the family. The final session focuses on 'belonging' – the importance to children of feeling part of their family – and we see how we can develop this through shared activities and creating family traditions.

Session titles:

Session 1 – Expectations and realities of parenting
Session 2 – Children's needs
Session 3 – Play and listening
Session 4 – Parenting styles
Session 5 – Discipline and safety
Session 6 – The wider family
